dd. While the coronavirus seems to have crept into the everyday life of the entire European population, every day, mainstream media confront us with new facts and frightening images of viruses, protective suits and coffins. The Swiss research and information project Swiss Propaganda Research currently offers a welcome alternative to the live tickers of the daily newspapers. The research group is characterized by its political and journalistic independence. At the request of a Swiss doctor, Swiss Propaganda Research has created its own news page with important information about the coronavirus. Its aim is to provide readers with a realistic risk assessment of developments in Italy and other countries. The mentioned site has been translated into many languages and is being updated with daily updates – it is worth following.

You will find an excerpt of this in the following article. The other articles in this issue are also intended to contribute to a balanced approach of information and judgment. [1] The Editor (db.)

~ No. 11/20: CORONAVIRUS ~

For clarification: This V&C does not aim at trivializing the coronavirus or call for not following the government's instructions. For an objective discussion of the problem, however, other expert voices should also be heard.

Misleading reporting: Deceased "by" instead of deceased "with" coronavirus

djo. As Swiss Propaganda Research points out in its article of March 22nd, 2020, most media currently incorrectly report that in Italy there were hundreds of new fatalities "by" the corona virus every day. In reality, in the press conference of March 20th, 2020, the President of the Italian Civil Defense stressed that the deaths were those occurring "with" the coronavirus and not those caused "by" the coronavirus. In other words, these people had died while they were additionally tested positive. The same pattern of reporting was particularly evident in media reports on young deceased persons. For example, the deceased 21-year-old Spanish football coach who was subsequently diagnosed with an undetected leukemia whose typical complications include severe pneumonia. Furthermore, British media reported about a 21-year-old woman who died of Covid-19 without any previous illnesses. However, in the meantime it became known that the woman did not test positive for Covid-19 and died of heart failure. The Covid-19 rumor was started "because she had a mild cough". This and further research have shown that even younger deceased persons are mostly or even exclusively persons with severe pre-existing conditions. [2]

Corona deaths of Italy in a different light

sts. According to media reports, about 800 people die every day in Italy as a result of coronavirus disease. This number is frightening and of course there is a human fate behind every single case. But if you compare this figure with the normal mortality rate in Italy, the picture is more realistic. As the news page of Swiss Propaganda Research mentions, the normal mortality rate in Italy is about 1,800 deaths per day. An Italian study from August 2019 also estimates that there have been between 7,000 and 25,000 flu deaths per year in Italy in recent years. Due to Italy's older population, this figure is higher than in other

"Important reference values are the number of annual flu deaths, which is up to 1,000 in

Switzerland, up to 8,000 in Italy and about 10,000 in Germany, with peaks of up to 25,000 people; normal all-cause mortality, which is up to 2,000 people per day in Italy, and the average number of pneumonia cases per year, which is over 120,000 in Italy."

European countries. In addition, according to the head of civil defense, Angelo Borrelli, the cause of death of those who have just died has not been conclusively clarified. The vast majority of the victims were over 70 years old, many suffered from one or more illnesses, for example diabetes, cancer or respiratory problems. If you consider the reliability of the corona test only being 30-50% according to the president of the Chinese Academy of Medical Sciences, Wang Chen, and that the test method is questionable, the reported number of daily corona deaths in Italy appears in a different light. [3]

Covid-19: A respiratory disease like every winter?

kt/ct. The German health scientist and lung specialist Dr. Wolfgang Wodarg recommends the population in his statement of February 2nd, 2020 not to get tested for corona viruses for 200 Euros. Even if the infection is only mildly "flu-like", there is a 7-15% risk of corona viruses being detected as several years of testing in Scotland (from 2005 to 2013) have shown. The findings would have no further clinical significance, it is only one of several names for acute respiratory diseases (ARE), which temporarily incapacitate 20-40% of the population every winter more or less. The typical feature of these respiratory diseases is that the order of the different viruses alternates from year to year. According to a study from Scotland, the most common pathogens are:

1st Rhinoviruses, 2nd Influenza A viruses, 3rd Influenza B viruses, 4th RS viruses, and 5th corona viruses. Wodarg asks: "So if it is said that there is an increasing number of proven coronavirus infections in China or in Italy: Can anyone tell us how often such examinations were carried out in the winters before [...]? If you claim that something is becoming more, you must refer to something you have observed before." [4]

"The current virus can rather be compared to a severe flu at the moment. According to estimates of the World Health Organization (WHO), hundreds of millions of people worldwide fall ill with this disease every year. Up to 650,000 are said to die from it every year, but you hardly ever hear anything about this number and this is something you should keep in mind."

Corona vaccine: Did Bill Gates have prior knowledge of the "pandemic"?

khc. Pharmaceutical companies and bio labs are currently working at full speed on the development of a vaccine against the coronavirus. Normally it takes years to develop such a vaccine and submit it for testing. Nevertheless, three companies are currently said to be close to a breakthrough in the development of a vaccine. It is particularly noticeable that two of the three companies, Moderna and Cure-Vac, had bought themselves into the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. Already in January

Corona lockdown: family time versus* digital media consumption

db. Across Europe, the current standstill in public life includes the closure of schools and leisure facilities. In this context, the following questions arise for parents: How do I occupy my children? How much digital media consumption do I allow them during this time and what effects can this have? As part of the study "Smart Growing up 2019?" of the German company health insurance fund pronova BKK, 100 German paediatricians were asked whether they had noticed any effects among children and young people as a result of excessive media consumption in recent years. The paediatricians report an increase in social conspicuities in 79% of cases, an increase in obesity in 75%, speech development disorders in 70%, motoric deficits in 66% and learning development disorders in 59%. In particular, 90% of the paediatricians surveved warned that the extent of the psychological damage

Closing Point •

The whole development around the coronavirus leaves a lot of room for speculation and possible misinformation. For this reason, Swiss Propaganda Research advises in one of its articles that one should check whether the media contribute to a realistic risk assessment: Which media merely count up test-positive case and death figures without asking what these people had fallen ill to or died of? Which media prefer scary pictures of viruses, protective suits, and coffins instead of concrete data, facts and backgrounds? In the current situation only those who ask the real questions can be trusted. These are not many, though. [8]
