THE PEOPLE HAVE A RIGHT TO VOICE AND COUNTERVOICE

~ No. 2/20 ~

INTRO

Today 'being different' is greeted with applause and 'diversity' is almost embarrassingly imposed. Thinking different, on the other hand, and communicating this openly, brings free thinkers into great affliction today. This is shown for example by the show trial against WikiLeaks founder Julian Assange that actually only intends to scare whistleblowers and investigative journalists. But what to do when one's conscience is stirred up and one can no longer participate in the evil activities of the powerful? The young activist Greta Thunberg in her recent speech said: "... there is hope. I have seen it. But it does not come from governments or corporations. It comes from the people". If one takes only this statement and ignores all other points of criticism around her, one recognizes the message: "Hope comes [...] from the people." So this issue again, is intended to enable the people getting to know counter-voices on various topics - to strengthen the free-thinking public awareness.

The slow killing of Julian Assange and the constitutional state

pwn. Police-state tendencies that can be observed in the USA and in Europe as well: WikiLeaks, viewed and hated by the political establishment and much of the media in the US as an "enemy, non-state intelligence agency", is blamed by the Democrats for Clinton's losses. Foreign Minister Mike Pompeo calls Assange a phoney, a coward and an enemy. At the Ecuadorian embassy, Assange was monitored by a Spanish security company, apparently commissioned by the CIA. During his trial only minimal public and media control was permitted - as is usually only the case with high-profile terrorists. The British prosecutor, five representatives of the USA and also the judge refused any delay in the extradition procedure, thus depriving Assange of the opportunity to defend himself and prevent extradition. Who else, if not the world community, can end this injustice? Julian Assange is a part of all those who love the truth! [1]

hm. The Australian investigative journalist Julian Assange brought a strong message and an upswing in independent reporting to the world with the news and information site WikiLeaks, which he co-founded and had run. Through WikiLeaks, whistleblowers of all kinds brought to light the most hidden dark sides, the "dirty work" of the established governments and media, so to speak. No wonder that he was literally hunted down by the US administration as an enemy of the state. He is currently in solitary confinement in the British maximum security prison in London, where he is being tortured to death, according to former British Ambassador Craig Murray. Doctors from all over the world had already unsuccessfully requested his medical care. Here the "triumph of justice" is evident, which quite obviously does not serve justice, but rather, with its worldwide show trial, gives itself up as the "contract killer" of those in power. [3]

Media conceal: USA foil Syrian sovereignty

nem. In November 2019 Konstantin Kosachev (head of the Committee on International Affairs of the Russian Federation Council) made the following statement regarding the current US military presence in Syria: "By building military bases in Syria, the USA is in reality violating the right to sovereignty and independence of the Syrian people and it is interesting that the West is not interested in this bitter reality and the illegal actions of the USA." According

Russia confirms "brain death" of NATO!

bmd. At the NATO summit in London, the identity crisis and inner strife within the 29 member states could no longer be glossed over. Maria Zakharova, spokeswoman of the Russian Foreign Ministry, confirmed in an interview the statement of French President Emmanuel Macron of September 7th, 2019 as follows: "NATO is brain-dead. The fact is not surprising but what is surprising is that a NATO leader is openly talking about it." She stressed the identity crisis of NATO and of the EU as well. These bodies had no strategy and no vision for the future. Now that NATO has served its time as a defense alliance, it is time for this costly NATO construct to be dismantled. Taxpayers and economies would breathe a sigh of relief! [2]

Is NATO preparing for a war?

pwn. How else should it be interpreted than as a preparation for an illegitimate war of aggression, when

- (1.) contrary to the NATO-Russia Founding Act of 1997, additional US soldiers are stationed in Romania and Poland.
- (2.) all disarmament treaties are terminated by the USA.
- (3.) Russia's proposal for the suspension of the missile deployment has been rejected by NATO.
- (4.) during exercises in 2019 the USA bombed twice from England a maneuver area in Lithuania, which is only 60 kilometers from the Russian border.
- (5.) NATO Secretary-General Stoltenberg announced that from now on NATO aircraft has priority over civil aviation in Europe. [4] to him, Moscow is aware that the US army occupied the Syrian oil fields in order to finance its military presence in Syria. Containing the influence of the IS terrorists and their control over the oil fields is only a pretext. Western governments and their state media – on the other hand – are not exposing their NATO partner USA as a raging wolf in sheep’s clothing who itself made the IS great through its secret services and is now fighting it in pretence. Do they cover the evil intrigues, since they are part of the “crime syndicate”? [5]

Iraq and Iran defy division

bmd. Several Iraqi cities, including Karbala, have been the scene of protests in recent weeks. A well-directed attack by the “insurgents” on the Iranian consulate in Karbala on the night of 3rd November 2019 was meant to foster tension between the two states. But the Iraqi leaders from the region around Karbala reacted surprisingly: Days later they visited the Iranian consulate and apologized for this attack on behalf of their citizens. They condemned this shameful act and affirmed that the attackers could not disturb the fraternal and close relations between the Iranians and the Iraqi people. This courageous and wise appearance of the leaders strengthened the relations between the two peoples and thus “disarmed” the attackers. Yet another proof that targeted provocation can be overcome! [7]

Tensions between Iran and Iraq are fueled bmd. For almost three months, Iraq has been plagued by fierce protests and fomented unrest, especially in the southern provinces of the country. Many people have been killed and injured. Russia’s UN ambassador, Vasily Nebenzya, warned at the meeting of the UN Security Council on December 3rd, 2019, against warmongering attempts from abroad, especially from the USA and its allies, to involve Iraq in a confrontation with Iran. Nebenzya literally: “Iraq has the right to have normal relations with its neighbors and to develop them. And no one has the right to undermine those relations!” So a very clear rejection of the destructive, inflammatory “divide-and-rule” policy of the US administration and its vassals. [6]

Fear of foreign peoples is fuelled ds. The German Stephan Meurisch marched from Munich to Tibet, on foot and with no money in his pocket. On his journey through 13 countries during 13,000 kilometres walking he met the most diverse people. His conclusion of this journey: (1.) In each country the hosts warned him urgently of the next country on his journey. (2.) No matter where Stephan went: Everywhere he went, he was welcomed with open arms. He was always invited – no, forced to eat and drink and to stay overnight. Everywhere he had to stay a few days longer. (3.) The world is not as bad as it is portrayed in newspapers or on television. – And how will the world look very different when the peoples lose their fear of each other, because they will no longer let politics and media incite them against each other. [8]

No studies? 5G has been extensively tested on humans!

hm. What is completely ignored in the 5G debate is the fact that the effects of microwaves on both physical and mental health have already been extensively researched at the highest level. Official research began in 1979 during the Cold War with the “Moscow Signal Affair” when the Americans realized that their embassy in Moscow was irradiated with Russian microwave weapons with a frequency range of 2.4 to 4 GHz and the embassy staff then largely became seriously ill. Therefore, the statement that there are no studies existing that are proving that microwaves are causing health damage is only a lame and invalid excuse of 5G supporters.

And 5G opponents are not at all short of proof wanting to stop 5G because of the serious risk potential that comes with it. The only thing that has not yet been fully researched are the obscuring strategies and the “entanglement” of industry, politics and their media. [10]

Worldwide rejection of the extortionate US sanctions

pwn. 187 members of the United Nations have demanded a resolution calling for an end to the US sanctions that have been in existence for 60 years. For example, Cuban Foreign Minister Bruno Rodríguez testified to an escalation by the Trump government, which prevented fuel from reaching Cuba. Ale Habib, the UN ambassador of the Islamic Republic of Iran, spoke of the inhumanity of the US blockade against Iran, the most unjust ever imposed on any country, and how this genocidal policy has been tightened over the last year. He sees the US sanctions as a flagrant violation of the norms and fundamental principles in the system of international relations. Conclusion: Because pressure does not make friends, the pressure-based US system, similar to the Pax Romana* of the Roman Empire, is in the long-term a phase-out model. [9]

*“Roman peace”

Closing Point ●
Seeing through the evil game of the powerful and no longer letting oneself get entangled in it anymore, is the beginning of an upward trend all over the world. It is up to the people, it needs EVERYONE!
